

Dear _____,

We, the Trafficking Survivor Equity Coalition (TSEC), a coalition bringing survivor-informed and anti-trafficking field informed policy recommendations to educate lawmakers on how to effectively prevent trafficking, protect trafficking survivors through equitable and inclusive services, and prosecute traffickers, are writing to express our support for the EARN IT Act of 2023. We believe that this piece of legislation is a critical step towards protecting children from online exploitation and abuse.

The EARN IT Act provides a framework for internet companies to better protect children from online predators by amending Section 230 of the Communications Decency Act to remove blanket immunity from Federal civil, State criminal, and State civil child sexual abuse material laws and requiring the companies to earn liability protection. Additionally, the bill establishes a commission to develop best practices for preventing online child sexual exploitation.

TSEC is particularly impressed by the bipartisan support for this legislation and the recognition of the importance of protecting children in the digital age. The EARN IT Act strikes a balance between protecting children and preserving the freedom of expression and privacy rights of individuals.

Our coalition of over 500 stakeholders urge you to support the EARN IT Act and help ensure that our society's most vulnerable are safe from the dangers of online predators. Thank you for your consideration and attention to this important matter.

Sincerely,

The Trafficking Survivor Equity Coalition